CITY MAY BE BUILT IN BELGIUM AS BIG MEMORIAL OF THE WAR

Inter-Allied Commission Makes Recommendation; City Would Be Internationalized and Would Be Permanent Seat of League of Nations

Brussels, July 14.—The Inter-Allied Commission which discussed the question of commemorating the war with a permanent monument will recommend the foundation in Belgium of an international city to be known as "Geopolis."

The city would be built on one of the sectors of the fighting front in Belgium, which would be neutralized and, according to the plans of the Commission, would become the permanent seat of the League of Nations.

FRANCE CELEBRATES THE GREAT VICTORY

Triumphal March of Allied Troops in Paris Witnessed To-day

Paris, July 14.—(Associated Press).—The triumphal march of Allied troops through Paris began at 8 o'clock this morning. The weather was brilliant, being more like October than midsummer.

A thousand wounded soldiers with crutches or in wheelchairs, and clad for the most part, in civilian clothes, led the parade, being preceded by a drum corps.

Guns began firing at minute intervals as President Poincaré placed a wreath at the foot of the cenotaph at the Arc de Triomphe. This empty caisson, placed there in memory of the Allied dead, also was decorated with other wreaths, these being placed by Premier Clemenceau, a French soldier, a French sailor, an Alsatian girl, a girl from Lorraine and Colonel Edmund Gros. This last wreath was in memory of seventy-two members of the Lafayette Escadrille, who lost their lives during the war.

Marshal Joffre, the victor of the First Battle of the Marne, passed under the Arc de Triomphe at 8:45 o'clock. He rode alone. Behind him came Marshal Foch, the Commander-in-Chief of the Allied forces during the final campaign of the war. A storm of applause arose from the vast throng as the two Marshals passed the President's stand and moved down the brilliant avenue.

The other Allied leaders, accompanied by their chief generals, followed.

1,000,000 Slept Not.
Paris, July 14.—About 1,000,000 people went to sleep in Paris last night, three-quarters of them from the suburbs and the others because they failed to obtain shelter. At 9 o'clock last evening the railroad stations still were discharging upon the already overcrowded city thousands of belated arrivals. (Concluded on page 17.)

NOT A CONVENTION OF ALL LIBERALS

Rowell Says Forthcoming Ottawa Gathering One of Anti-Unionists

Ottawa, July 14.—In answer to inquiries from his constituents in Durham County with reference to his views on the recent Liberal convention in Ontario and the national Liberal Convention to be held in Ottawa in August, Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, has made public a letter he wrote to W. J. B. Davidson, one of the leading Liberals of Ontario. Previous to the recent provincial Liberal convention in Toronto, Mr. Rowell says, both the Unionist and non-Unionist Liberals in Ontario co-operated in provincial politics under the temporary leadership of Mr. Proudfoot.

"The convention has changed the whole situation," Mr. Rowell continues. "The intolerant attitude of one section of the party, apparently largely represented at the convention, toward Mr. Proudfoot and other Unionist Liberals, shows that co-operation at the present time in provincial politics is impossible. Further, and I am sure not less significant at this time, was the choice of Hartley H. Dewar as leader in Ontario."

Mr. Rowell goes on to explain that Mr. Dewar used his utmost efforts to defeat the Union Government and Canada's war policy, and not only has Mr. Dewar not sympathized with, but

Orderly Killed at Qualicum Hospital; Charge of Murder

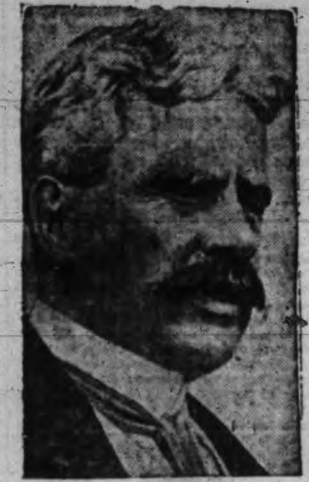

Nanaimo, July 14.—As a result of a quarrel over money matters, Matthew Scherby, an orderly in the Qualicum Military Hospital, was shot and killed on Sunday, it is alleged, by J. Dougan, another orderly. The body of the dead man was brought here and an inquest has been ordered held this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Capt. Rickenbacker Plans to Fly From States to Orient

Calgary, July 14.—Capt. "Eddie" Rickenbacker, greatest of the United States aces, is at Banff Springs Hotel recuperating from strain of war and his long speech-making tour for the last Liberty Loan.

"I am out of the army and out of uniform, but still in the flying game," said Capt. Rickenbacker. "My ambition now is to make the first flight across the Pacific from California to Hawaii, and thence to Japan."

APPEALS FOR STEADY INDUSTRIAL STATE; SIR ROBT. BORDEN

SIR ROBT. BORDEN

SPIRIT OF CONCILIATION IN INDUSTRIAL FIELD IS URGED BY SIR R. BORDEN

Ottawa, July 14.—Sir Robert Borden has communicated to the press the following with respect to industrial and labor conditions:

"As announced in the Governor-General's speech at prorogation, it is the intention of the Government to summon, within a few weeks, a representative conference for the purpose of an intimate and friendly discussion of relations between employers and employed, and for consideration of the report of the Industrial Relations Commission. The Provincial Governments will be invited to attend, and the various organizations of employers and employed will be requested to appoint representatives. It is hoped that such a conference will be productive of a better understanding and more thorough co-operation."

UKRAINIAN-POLISH PROBLEM ACUTE

Premier Tarnik Says Ukrainians Will Not Give in to the Poles

Vienna, July 13.—via London, July 14.—The Ukrainians will never give in to the Poles who are advancing into their country, according to a message received here from M. Tarnik, Premier of the Ukrainian Government of General Petlura. He adds that the Ukraine would not join a Russian federation.

"Overrun by Russians, Germans, Poles and Bolsheviks, the fate of the Ukraine is worse than that of Belgium," the Premier's message says. "We also are fighting an epidemic, but we will have liberty if it takes us twenty years."

General Petlura begged the Allies for munitions last winter for use against the Bolsheviks, but was refused. The Poles were given help the Premier says, and General Haller's army was transported across Germany.

"In the army of General Haller," says the message, "are many men in khaki uniforms, calling themselves Ukrainian citizens, who are assisting the Poles in burning our villages and killing our civilians in such places as Tcheretche, east of Lemberg. The Poles also are closing the Ukrainian schools and churches and burning books printed in our language."

General Allenby Is Honored With Medal By United States

London, July 14.—General H. H. Allenby, who commanded the British forces in Palestine which took Jerusalem in 1917, is one of a large number of British officers awarded the United States Distinguished Service Medal, according to a list published to-day in The London Gazette.

PRINCE OF WALES TO BE ON THIS COAST IN SEPTEMBER

Winnipeg, July 14.—The Prince of Wales will spend two days in Winnipeg during his tour of Canada from coast to coast. The dates provisionally arranged for the visit are September 9 and 10, and during that time he will be the guest of Lieut. Governor Sir James Aikins.

If the dates remain as tentatively fixed the Prince will continue his journey westward on the evening of September 10.

TO LET DRYDOCK CONTRACT IN FALL

Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M. P., Says Work Will Be Started in November

SPEAKS ON EARLY ELECTION POSSIBILITIES

The contract for the big Esquimalt drydock will be let in October, and preliminary work on the dock site will commence early in November, according to a statement made to-day by Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M. P. for Victoria, who returned to the city from Ottawa yesterday afternoon. Discussing the recent session of the Dominion Parliament, Dr. Tolmie expressed himself thoroughly satisfied with the work done, declared that Sir Thomas White's Budget displayed excellent judgment particularly concerning the tariff, and asserted that he had seen or heard nothing that would lead him to believe that there was any possibility of a general election this year.

A Hammer and Tongs Fight.
"Getting that drydock," said Dr. Tolmie, "was simply a hammer-and-tongs fight from beginning to end. The utmost pressure was brought to bear upon the Cabinet from every available source. We had to watch the Vancouver men all the time. You have no idea of the arguments and memoranda that they placed before the Cabinet. In fact for a time the Cabinet was in doubt as to which really was the right site for the dock."

Vancouver Went Out the Back Way.
The conclusion of the political war for the dock, Dr. Tolmie observed, was quite dramatic and rather amusing from Victoria's standpoint. The member for Victoria and a delegation composed of Vancouver members, if happened, were waiting in the ante-room of the office of the Minister of Public Works one day some two weeks ago, hoping for an announcement on the issue in which they were mostly interested. The Vancouver delegates were ushered into the Minister's presence first, and they appeared confident of the Cabinet's verdict. When Dr. Tolmie entered, however, they had disappeared, having withdrawn by a door at the rear, following Mr. Carvell, an announcement that Victoria had won out!

SERBIAN TROOPS LEAVE TEMESVAR

Roumanians Say They Are Taking With Them Everything of Value

Geneva, July 14.—The Roumanian bureau at Bern announces that the Serbian forces which have been occupying the city of Temesvar, seventy-two miles northeast of Belgrade, are evacuating the place, taking with them everything of value, including forty locomotives, 1,500 railroad cars, machinery from factories, animals and household articles. The bureau states that the population of the city is making an indignant protest against the action of the Serbians.

SIR S. HUGHES IS FOR PLAIN SPEAKING

Toronto, July 14.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, one of the speakers at the Orange demonstration here Saturday, said that now that the war was over, there was going to be some plain speaking in Canada on political matters. He had never been afraid to trust his fellowmen. Educate the people and then do not be afraid to trust them, was his motto.

Sir Sam said that the members of Parliament to-day had no say whatever in the making of appointments. The Ministers made them, for the men who were responsible to the people, the members of Parliament, were not considered, and so far as he was concerned he would fight any policy of depriving the member of Parliament of his responsibility in nominating members of the people for office.

SIR PERCY SANDERSON DIES IN ENGLAND

London, July 14.—Sir Percy Sanderson, who was British Consul-General at New York from 1894 to 1907, died at his home in Reding to-day.

AIRSHIP R-34 MADE LONG RETURN TRIP IN SEVENTY-FIVE HOURS

Dirigible Landed Safely at Pulham, Norfolk, Sunday Morning; Commander Says Future Airships for Commercial Purposes Will Be Larger and Swifter

Pulham, Norfolk, Eng., July 14.—Approximately seventy-five hours was the time consumed by the giant dirigible R-34 in making the return voyage to the United Kingdom from the North American continent. The airship arrived at the air station here from Long Island at 6.56 a. m. Sunday, Greenwich time (10.56 p. m. Saturday, Victoria time).

The R-34 poked her nose out of the clouds northeast of this village, and after circling the flying field several times, glided gently to the ground and ten minutes later was housed in the dirigible shed. The voyage from Long Island was without incident and was completed in approximately seventy-five hours.

Soon after daybreak 400 men stationed at the aerodrome here were roused from their sleep to prepare for the landing of the trans-Atlantic voyager. Lookouts took positions in towers and wireless operators prepared to pick up messages from the airship. The sun rose bright, but soon afterward was obscured by clouds. There was no wind and those on watch were confident that the dirigible would arrive on time.

Shouts from those on the field greeted the first sight of the long grey body on the horizon. As the R-34 approached the field she dropped from a height of 5,000 feet to 3,000 feet. The men who were to aid the airship in landing were ordered to their posts and waited silently as the ship circled the field, dropping lower and lower.

NEW BRITISH LOAN A GREAT SUCCESS

Estimates Indicate Total of $7,500,000,000; Rush During Closing Hours

London, July 14.—(Reuters).—The closing hours of the Victory Loan witnessed a tremendous rush of investors. The final figures are not yet available, but estimates indicate a total of £1,500,000,000, including £750,000,000 new money. Manchester heads the list of provinces with £20,000,000, and Liverpool is second with £25,000,000. The largest personal subscription was one of £1,000,000 from "Private T." whose identity has not been disclosed. Sir Edward Sassoon subscribed £400,000.

STREET CAR STRIKE IN BERLIN SETTLED

Berlin, July 13.—Via London, July 14.—(Associated Press).—As a result of intervention by the Federation of Labor, a settlement of the transportation strike here has been effected. Traffic on the subway and surface lines is expected to be resumed on Monday after a suspension of twelve days.

WAITERS' STRIKE IN PARIS IS SETTLED

Paris, July 14.—The waiters' strike in this city has been settled, an agreement having been reached yesterday afternoon between representatives of the strikers and the employers. All the cafes and restaurants re-opened to-day.

INTER-DOMINION TRADE INCREASING

W. A. Beddoe, Canadian Trade Commissioner for New Zealand Here

"The best augury for reciprocal trade between Canada and New Zealand is the desire for trade which undoubtedly exists between the two Dominions as shown in tariff encouragement. The New Zealanders are exceedingly anxious to do business with a sister dominion," said W. A. Beddoe, Canadian Trade Commissioner for New Zealand, who arrived from Auckland on the Niagara on Saturday evening.

To The Times Mr. Beddoe said the island dominion wants business, but increased transportation is imperative in order to secure the development of trade between Canada and New Zealand. There is a large market there for lumber, agricultural implements, and manufactured goods, while New Zealand has wool, mutton, butter, cheese, and other products for which there is an increasing demand in this Dominion, according to Mr. Beddoe.

Mr. Beddoe stated he had been nine years on the islands, and throughout that time had found an increasing interest in Canada. However, the sentiment had become very much more marked during the war, the New Zealanders being an intensely loyal people desirous of migration, and trade within the Empire.

Like other Canadian Trade Commissioners overseas, Mr. Beddoe has been recalled this summer to renew acquaintance with Canadian trade development. He will return to his post in September.

LABOR PARTY BRANCH AT KENORA, ONT.

Kenora, Ont., July 14.—A branch of the Independent Labor Party of Ontario was formed here yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in Odd Fellows Hall, a charter having been secured some weeks ago. There was a large crowd present. The platform of the new party was approved and the following officers of the local association elected: P. Hyman, president; Gordon Hudson, vice-president, and W. Allan, secretary-treasurer.

The local association decided to organize the constituency and to place a candidate in the field at the next provincial election. F. J. Dixon, of Winnipeg, gave a short address.

BELA KUN TOLD TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE

Allies Will Not Hold Discussion With Him Until Conditions Met

WIRELESS MESSAGE SENT FROM PARIS

Paris, July 14.—The Allied and Associated Powers on Saturday joined in a wireless message to Bela Kun, Hungarian communist Foreign Minister, declaring they cannot enter into a discussion with him until he has carried out the conditions of the armistice.

The Supreme Council in Paris on Friday discussed with Marshal Foch and representatives of the Czech and Jugoslav Governments the question of combined military action against the Hungarian Communist forces. The Hungarians have been slow in carrying out the terms of the armistice which resulted in the Czech, Roumanian and Jugoslav armies stopping their advance on Budapest several weeks ago.

CALIFORNIAN KILLED HIS INVALID BRIDE

Ukiah, Cal., July 14.—Herman J. Knaesche, a former soldier, confessed to Sheriff Ralph Byrnes yesterday that he had shot to death his wife, Frieda Knaesche, a bride of two weeks. Mrs. Knaesche was found dead at the family home here Wednesday.

The brief married life of the Knaesches had been darkened by the husband's discovery that his wife was an invalid. Knaesche had brooded over this, Sheriff Byrnes said. Wednesday, Knaesche told the sheriff, he appeared before his wife with a shotgun in his hands. She shrank from him.

"When she expressed fear of the gun the impulse was irresistible," Knaesche told the officer. "I followed her into the house and shot her. She ran to the sleeping porch and I followed. When she fell upon the bed I fired the second shot."

DECLARES UNREST ONLY TEMPORARY

People of Empire Have Good Sense, Says Massey, New Zealand

TRADE COMPETITION IS STARTING AGAIN

Prime Minister of New Zealand States Views in Vancouver

Vancouver, July 14.—"I have sufficient confidence in the good sense of the British people to believe that any labor or industrial troubles within the Empire are only temporary, and that we shall soon get over them," said Rt. Hon. W. F. Massey, Prime Minister of New Zealand, last night at the Hotel Vancouver.

"As far as the Old Country is concerned, I believe there will not be any serious troubles there, especially since the peace treaty has been signed and the people realize that the markets of the world will soon be open to Germany and that she will soon be a competing power in international commerce. British industries therefore must be on a good footing at once to meet this competition. It will take at least a year for Britain to settle down after the great industrial changes brought about by the war, but the return to normal will be accomplished without ill results. I have no doubt that the League of Nations will materialize in some form or other."

"At the Peace Conference itself and the peace treaty, the Dominions of the British Empire occupied positions as high contracting powers in my opinion quite satisfactory in every way. In the case of New Zealand, we were called upon within a few days after our arrival at the conference to present the claim of New Zealand to Samoa. Our difficulty was in getting the matter down to a practical basis, with the exception, of course, of fortifications. This settlement was not what we wanted, as we would have preferred to have had Samoa placed directly under Great Britain, but the Allied Powers opposed this plan. Samoa really becomes part of New Zealand, as far as New Zealand is concerned, but the only difference from other possessions is that it must give an annual report to the League of Nations.

Prosperity. "Financially New Zealand is prosperous, as we have managed during war to keep up the value of our output, if not the quantity. Money is plentiful, trade is good, wages are high, and although there is a certain amount of unrest, I have confidence that the good sense of the British people will overcome this."

The Prime Minister is accompanied by Mrs. Massey and their daughter and his secretaries, and will leave for New Zealand on the Niagara this week.

OUTCRY ON COAL PRICE IN BRITAIN

Raising of Price By the Government Causes Furor

COST OF LIVING WILL GO HIGHER

Manufacturers Explain Increased Cost Will Be Passed On to Consumers

London, July 14.—Seldom has any people received such a swift and vivid lesson in practical economics as the population of this country has had in the motion put through the House of Commons, Wednesday last by the Government raising the price of coal six shillings a ton from next Wednesday.

The response has been immediate and specific and comes from almost every branch of industry in the Kingdom—from shipbuilders, shipowners, railways, gas works and almost all sorts of manufacturers and industries, down to laundries and bakeries. They explain just what the Government order will cost their concerns and serve notice, also, that they must pass the cost on to the buyers and the consumers.

Great export industries declare that the increase in the price of coal will handicap them in their competition with other countries and may mean, in some instances, a stoppage of their plants and an increase in unemployment.

Cost of Living. The general public is told how much the higher price of coal will inflate the cost of living.

The Government apparently meant this to be an object lesson as to what would result from the prevalent agitation for higher wages and shorter working hours. It also seems to be trying to throw cold water on the campaign for the nationalization of industries by trying to show that Government management does not mean that wages can be increased and prices can be decreased indefinitely. Labor has taken up the gauntlet at once, charging the Government with wishing to kill the plan for nationalization and declaring that the Government is favoring the capitalists and misrepresenting conditions by bungling the bookkeeping.

During the last stages of the war the Government ran the railroads at a loss, according to a statement made before the House of Commons by Sir Eric Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction. The loss is estimated at $60,000,000 a year. The deficit in the coal industry is estimated at $46,000,000.

The members of the crew were eagerly surrounded by friends who were waiting at the aerodrome.

George Graham, the chief engineer, proudly carried his pet kitten, which was born at East Fortune. The kitten suffered no inconvenience during the trip and manifested its delight on reaching land again by jumping on the backs of its master's friends.

Wireless. "We were never out of touch with the world, although we met a lot of fog," said Lieut. R. D. Durrant, the wireless officer.

"It was hot in New York, cold over the Atlantic, and you see what it is here. We sighted two ships, the Cumberland and one going to Mexico. When they asked us who we were, we said we were a British airship from New York to England. Their wireless operators expressed surprise. They had been to sea some time, and did not know about us."

Brigadier-General M. Maitland, the representative of the Air Ministry on the R-34, who kept the log of the voyage, said:

Future Use. "We were sent by the Air Ministry to demonstrate that airships can do a sea voyage with the ultimate view of their commercial value later. Airships undoubtedly will be used in the future over sea and over land. They will not conflict in any way with the aeroplanes or seaplanes, but will work with the latter."

"Our reception in the United States was extraordinary. The people there, impressed with our voyage, fully realize the commercial possibilities of the big airship. It was a wonderful sight as we passed over the great electric signs in New York, the signs being particularly bright spots below."

American Officer. "This has been a great trip," said Col. W. N. Hensley, Jr., of the United States Army air service, as he climbed out of the car and shook hands with the British officers.

"We were lost one whole day because the fog was so thick we could not get a shot at the sun, moon, stars or horizon, but we worked out of it and struck the Irish coast. We passed over the Isle of Man about 3 o'clock this morning and then, mounted above the clouds, witnessed a most beautiful sight. Above was the bright moon, below soft fleecy clouds touched with all the colors of the rainbow, and far down below occasionally could be seen the dark, deep blue of the sea, but we did not have time to admire the beauty of the scene."

"We soon passed over Liverpool and then other cities and towns, and here we are. We had no inconvenience except that we had no hot water for shaving. Our eggs were cooked in the exhaust of the engines and we had plenty of other good food and coffee, tea and cocoa to drink. No one suffered from air sickness, and while the sea below was tossed by a forty-mile gale, we were moving along in comfort on an even keel."

Regular airship service between Europe and America is bound to come, and that soon."

Eager to Fly Again. The members of the crew of the R-34 were disappointed because they were not able to land at East Fortune, where most of them have their homes. They were taken in charge by the officers at Fulham and provided with clothing, as they had nothing but their flying clothing on the airship. We were glad to get back, but said they were anxious to make another trip, being confident that their successful adventure was only the beginning of a life which will include not only trans-Atlantic flights, but regular trips to other countries, particularly in Europe and Asia.

The R-34 rested yesterday in the shed beside her sister ship, the R-33. Major Scott and the other officers of the dirigible, after resting, are preparing to return the R-34 to East Fortune, her home port.

The officers will make a careful examination of the machinery and envelope to ascertain how they stood the test of the long voyage. All the engines worked perfectly almost to the last minute except the stern engine, which was broken beyond repair, the trouble was caused by the connecting rod breaking and smashing the engine.

Official Time. London, July 14.—(Associated Press.)—The arrival of the dirigible R-34 at the aerodrome at Fulham, Norfolk, was announced by the Air Ministry to have occurred at 6.56 a. m. yesterday, Greenwich time (10.56 p. m. Saturday, Victoria time). Unofficial timers reported that she had landed at 7.02 o'clock.

The Air Ministry announced that the R-34 had been first sighted fifteen miles north of Fulham at 5.56 o'clock Greenwich time, 9.56 p. m. Saturday, Victoria time. The dirigible turned to the south, and after circling over the aerodrome at a height of 800 feet, landed safely at 6.56 o'clock Greenwich time, exactly one hour after she had first been sighted at Fulham.

FORTY HOURS HERE DURING CONVENTION

National Editorial Association
Will Be Here August
17-19

Delegates to the National Editorial Association meeting here in August will spend forty hours in the city and district. They will arrive at night on August 17, and leave by the afternoon boat on August 19 for Vancouver.

It is ten years since the association was on this coast, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exhibition in 1909. However, the 1919 meeting is an interstate gathering, rather than a meeting in any individual city, as parts of the business will be transacted at Portland, Seattle, Victoria, and Vancouver. The gathering will begin at Portland on August 9, and will continue in other cities over the ensuing two weeks.

Representative Hardy.
Guy U. Hardy, of Canyon City, Colorado, is president. He was elected last year to Congress from one of the Colorado districts.

If the United States railroad administration had sent its way east to make special provision for the editorial party they would have traveled over the American lines, but it was impossible to get special rates and equipment, so the Canadian lines stepped in with an attractive offer coming and going, and the party has been routed that way leaving Winnipeg on July 29.

Portland has set aside $10,000 to spend on the visitors, Victoria and Vancouver have made generous appropriations, and Seattle and Tacoma have undertaken to keep the visitors busy sightseeing. The Washington entertainment includes a trip to Mount Rainier, which will be made under the combined auspices of the Tacoma Commercial Club and Chamber of Commerce and the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club. There will be a banquet and ball at the Masonic Temple, Seattle, and a trip on the Sound, including an inspection of port properties, a trip through the Lake Washington canal locks, with a barbecue on the east shore of Lake Washington. Dr. W. T. Christensen, of the Seattle Port Commission, has undertaken to arrange the details of this feature. Bremerton is to be visited and the navy yard inspected. The Chamber of Commerce of Bremerton will serve a dinner to the editors.

The big programme feature in Seattle is the launching of the steamship Canyon City by Skinner & Eddy. Mrs. Guy U. Hardy, wife of President Hardy, will be sponsor.

Editors Invited to Trip.
The trial trip of the steamship Seattle Spirit, built at the DuRoi yards, will be the same day as the launching of the Canyon City, and Mr. DuRoi has invited a party of editors to make the trip. This is an added feature on the entertainment programme.

The city of Chehalis has invited the Victoria special to stop over there en route to Portland. Chehalis plans to give a big dinner and short programme.

At Portland.
The big attraction on the Portland programme is a trip to Crater Lake, for which a special train has been chartered. Returning from Crater Lake the Victoria special will reach Tacoma on Wednesday, August 13, where the Tacoma committees will meet the editors at the railway station and take the visitors by automobile to the home of the Tacoma Commercial Club and Chamber of Commerce.

The Washington entertainment is under the direction of a committee of local and state newspaper men and the publicity bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club. Samuel Collyer, Kenneth C. Kerr and George A. Sample represent the latter organization. Frank P. Goss, a delegate to the Arkansas convention last year, is chairman of the general committee of arrangements.

At Victoria.
The programme for the entertainment of the delegates at Victoria is as follows:

Sunday, Aug. 17.—Party from Victoria will meet delegation in Seattle and escort them to a steamer, which will leave Seattle at 6 o'clock in the evening. Dinner en route. Arrive in Victoria 11 p.m.

Monday, Aug. 18, 10 a.m.—Reception at the Parliament Buildings; addresses of welcome by Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia and Mayor Porter of Victoria, followed by session of convention.

GREAT WASTE OF FUNDS IS CHARGED

Money Thrown Away in Aeroplane Spruce Operations on U. S. Pacific Coast

Washington, July 14.—Affidavits purporting to show criminal misuse of public funds by the spruce production division of the army air service, collected during the past year by The Providence Journal, have been submitted to the special House Committee investigating War Department expenditures and are under investigation by a sub-committee of which Representative Fear of Wisconsin is chairman.

According to a statement authorized by Mr. Fear, the affidavits allege that contracts for spruce production and railroad construction on the Pacific coast were awarded under the cost-plus system to companies which had no practical experience in the work, with the result that great sums were wasted. Many methods were used by the companies, it is charged, to obtain larger fees from the government.

$650 Per 1,000 Feet.
"Charges are made," the statement says, "that the Government was subjected, under the cost-plus system, to a cost of practically $650 per 1,000 feet for spruce when private concerns were procuring the same kind for from $120 to $175."

The affidavits assert that the waste caused by companies in building camps in inaccessible localities ran into many thousands of dollars; that the waste was an utter lack of proper care of foodstuffs and that in many cases hundreds of dollars' worth of flour, lard—seven pepper—were carelessly thrown into the mud at the side of the road and left to rot. In one instance, seven stoves were left exposed to the weather and ruined.

Other Affidavits.
"There are affidavits alleging that miles and miles of two-inch plank road were built into the forests and never used and camps constructed where spruce was felled but not an inch brought out."

Col. Bruce P. Dague, former chief of the spruce production division, is criticized in the affidavits for having adopted wasteful methods for the production of spruce, for having used poor judgment in the lumber tracts to be worked and for having often received services of the following well known artists:

FORMER HOSPITAL NURSE HAS GAINED EIGHTEEN POUNDS

After Ten Years' Hospital Experience, She Says, "Tanlac Has No Equal"

Mrs. M. Brooker, residing at 139 Burrows Street, Winnipeg, who spent ten years nursing in one of the Brighton Hospitals in Sussex, England, comes forward with her unqualified endorsement of Tanlac.

Mrs. Brooker's statement, coming as it does, from one of such wide experience, relieving suffering, will be of interest to thousands throughout Canada who are seeking relief. In discussing Tanlac, which has been so beneficial to her, Mrs. Brooker said:

"Tanlac has put me in shape to where I have actually gained eighteen pounds in weight and since using the medicine with such wonderful results myself I feel that I should make a statement for the benefit of others."

"My health had been gradually giving way for about six years. During the past five years, especially, I have suffered from a nervous condition that almost drove me wild. I was so nervous that the least noise would annoy me. I could not bear for the children to call me. I could not sleep and had headaches something awful. I lost my appetite and got to where I never ate but one meal a day, that being the evening meal. The rest of the time I just could not bear for the children to call me. I lost strength continually, and was getting dreadfully thin."

"Finally I was induced by my next door neighbor, who had used Tanlac to try the medicine myself and now I can recommend it to everyone for it has certainly done me a world of good. I can say from my long experience as a hospital nurse that Tanlac is a rare medicine. I have never seen its equal in the treatment of troubles like I had. My appetite is fine now, and I thoroughly enjoy every meal, and as I said I have gained eighteen pounds in weight, which shows how well my food agrees with me. I am not nervous any more, and have had only one slight headache since I began taking Tanlac. I sleep soundly all night long, and get up mornings feeling rested and refreshed. In fact, I am feeling like a different person and much stronger than I can do a good day's work without any trouble. Everyone ought to know about a medicine that will do such things for suffering people, and I am glad of the opportunity to make this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Adv.

FRANCE'S DAY.

This is France's day of days, the 130th anniversary of the fall of the Bastille and the beginning of the Great Revolution. But the pageantry which marks the occasion possesses a different significance from the celebrations of other years. Today France, victorious with her Allies over an enemy which had sworn to destroy her, begins a new era, confronts the trials and tribulations of a new birth.

There are many sombre shadows upon her. Nearly two millions of the flower of her manhood have fallen on the field of battle or lie buried in Germany. A large part of her most productive section is prostrate. Millions of her people are trying to convert the pitiful debris of what once were their peaceful homes into places fit to live in. She bears a burden of debt seven or eight times as heavy as that of five years ago. She is wracked with industrial and social turmoil.

But there is one shadow that is conspicuous by its absence and because of this France cheerfully welcomes all the others. This is the shadow of Prussian militarism, waiting and preparing, with glowering mien, decade after decade, year after year, for the "chosen moment" to deliver a coup de grace, to finish Bismarck's work and crush the French republic forever, "never to cross our path again," to quote Bernhardt.

For more than forty years that grim threat from across the Rhine virtually held France in chains. It dictated her policies, foreign and domestic. The necessity it involved of preparing to defend her existence against the blow she knew some day would come forced her, a republic which hated militarism, to militarize herself, to pyramid debt upon debt in maintaining armaments and subsidizing her allies. In this way it influenced her entire social and economic life, decreasing her birth-rate and restricting her development. And Alsace and Lorraine were constant reminders of the fate in store for her if the brutal spoilers from the east again should succeed in an invasion of her soil.

France celebrates good riddance to that shadow. It has disappeared and, notwithstanding the apprehension of certain elements still unable to think in any other terms than of guns and bayonets, we are confident it has gone forever. Apart from the inevitable development of German democracy in the place of Prussian militarism, Germany has learned the lesson that should have been taught fifty-five years ago when Prussia plundered Schleswig and Holstein from Denmark, or, five years later, when she struck at France.

Germany has learned that it is humanly impossible for her to goose-step into her place in the sun over the ruins of her neighbors, that civilization will not permit it and that an attempt to do so necessarily must end in disaster. She is the most vulnerable power in Europe when confronted with an issue which involves Great Britain, standing impregnable athwart her avenues to the sea, and she knows it. She knows, too, that Great Britain and all the other Anglo-Saxon democracies never again will permit her to make unprovoked war upon France.

Germany herself contributed to the celebration of Bastille Day last year. On that day she began her last offensive of the decisive campaign of the war—the great advance against the Marne and east of Rheims under Frederick William Hohenzollern which was intended to end the conflict and gain a "German peace." It was a futile move, for while German troops crossed the Marne and passed seven miles beyond it, Gouraud's splendid Fourth Army hurled the enemy back east of Rheims, and then Foch launched his mighty counter-offensive which ultimately extended along the entire battle-front and knocked Germany out of the war. Autoeracy's "chosen moment" assuredly was not the birthday of the French Republic which today is being commemorated in France such as it never was commemorated before, and in the celebration of which all civilization to whose cause France has given so much joins with her in spirit.

HOPEFUL MINING OUTLOOK.

British Columbia's mining industry prospered in the year 1918 and showed an increase in value of output over the preceding twelve months of $4,772,082. While not so large as the banner year of 1916—an abnormal year in the history of the Province and the mining world generally—the 1918 production adds promise to the future of the industry in British Columbia. Many adverse conditions hampered operations during the period reviewed by the Minister of Mines in his annual report just published. Labor troubles were remarkably few, however, and perhaps the most serious dislocation was the single-shift controversy in the Crows Nest field. Moreover, as soon as the armistice was signed the market for what came to be known as "war materials" disappeared almost instantly.

It is safe to assume, therefore, that the abnormal period as far as the mining industry in this Province is concerned, has passed. And no alarm need be caused by the absence of a "war metals" market. The advent of stabilized prices for metals and minerals should be no hindrance to British Columbia. There are already healthy signs of development in several parts of the Province. Gold mining will very naturally come into its own again and, with smaller operating costs as a set-off against stationary values, production should materially increase. Unlike so many of the metals gold has not shared in the general hectic prosperity.

It is satisfactory to note, that the established producers are generally in good shape to continue production even at lowered metal prices. This condition alone should warrant an optimistic outlook for new development when the industry as a whole has reached a completely normal plane again. British Columbia has large areas of undeveloped and unprospected mineral wealth which should be tapped. Her hidden resources merely await the advent of the prospector, and his ranks should be largely augmented when capital begins to move more freely.

JOFFRE AND FOCH.

It is eminently fitting that Marshal Joffre should ride alongside Marshal Foch at the head of the great parade of Allied troops in Paris today in honor of France's national holiday. Joffre was France incarnate in the opening stages of the war, and as the victor of the first Battle of the Marne will be glorified by history as the leader who decided the ultimate outcome of the struggle. But he was more than the lionine, imperturbable soldier who carried in his hand the destinies of civilization in the heart-breaking days when the German hosts were plunging through Belgium and the fair fields of France. He had been the creator of the modern French army; he had organized it and brought it to a state of high efficiency in the face of powerful political opposition and in spite of the handicap of inadequate material resources. That was why the French Government, when the crisis arose, put him in charge of the organization he had done so much to promote. Joffre and Foch, the leader who in the first round delivered a blow from which the enemy never recovered, and the leader who finished the fight, present a combination that must appeal to the imagination of the world as they ride to-day at the head of the veterans of many nations in Paris.

HEARTY CO-OPERATION NECESSARY.

When Victorians set out to do things they usually do them well. Many public celebrations have been staged with outstanding success because there has existed invariably the proper kind of co-operation. Without working harmony the most simple affair can easily go wrong. This is, of course, a most obvious argument, but in repeating it we have in mind the celebration scheduled for next Saturday.

At no time in the history of the world, has Canada, her provinces, her cities and villages been called upon to celebrate such a momentous event as that which will be observed on Saturday.

Those responsible for the general arrangements are working indefatigably to make the whole programme run smoothly, and the general public should do its part in sympathetic and practical co-operation. So should the civic authorities. History has no parallel for the occasion and we bespeak for next Saturday's Peace Celebration, therefore, that support and co-operation which Victorians know how to give.

THOSE OVERALLS.

On his arrival at Montreal from Great Britain on Saturday Sir Clifford Sifton pointed out that there was a tremendous demand for Canadian goods of all kinds all over Europe and that the great difficulty was to get the goods. It might be supposed, of course, that the popularity of Canadian goods established during the war more particularly should lead to a considerable amount of business for the Dominion as a whole. It is presumably to get that business that the idea of sending Trade Commissioners to Europe struck the Dominion Government. Recent advices indicated that credits to the extent of $16,000,000 already had been arranged in respect of Canadian goods, but out of this amount British Columbia is slated for orders amounting to only $7,536.

There are two significant features about this Province's interest in the $16,000,000 credit. One is the very small proportion and the other is the fact that the sum mentioned is to buy overalls. There is not a word about salmon or even forest products. Is Sir Clifford Sifton to be understood as interpreting the difficulty to get Canadian goods as due to lack of manufacturing facilities, or does he mean that there are orders in Europe to be got for the asking? Whatever is the trouble it should not be difficult for the Federal Government to remedy it. If orders can be filled, the Canadian Trade Commissioners had better look out for the energetic American salesmen in Europe.

A CONTRAST.

Evidence of Turkey's dawning convalescence is to be found in her decision to regard Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey as common criminals deserving criminal punishment. As the leaders of the Turkish Government during the war these two wily individuals sold their country to Germany and consented to play any tune called from Potsdam. Upon Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey always will rest the responsibility for exterminating in cold blood one million Armenians, the extermination of almost a whole race. But in Turkey's discovery of guilt and her determination to punish where punishment is merited there is a striking contrast to the attitude displayed by her former Teuton masters. Germany, so far, has punished none of her late leaders. Turkey under Enver and Talaat took many pages from Berlin's book. Germany would profit by emulating Turkey's example in dealing with the men who led her to ruin.

TREATING.

Statistics published in England some time ago showed that the anti-treating law enacted as a war measure had a good deal to do with reducing the police dockets for drunkenness. Whether the restriction did all that was hoped of it or not is problematical because its spirit and intent were tolerably simple to circumvent. That it did have some effect, however, appears to be certain. In revoking the no-treating order the Liquor Board expresses the hope that "the good sense of the community should suffice to prevent its revival with the wasteful and excessive drinking to which it leads." Always the greatest time-waster, the bar may yet be able to perform its functions in England without causing the abuses which earn for it so many enemies.

MAY ACCEPT HOUSING ALLOCATION TO-NIGHT

Mayor Still Holds That Scheme Is Not a Good Business Proposition

"As a business proposition I don't like it a bit, but it is quite probable that the Council will decide to-night to accept at least a portion of Victoria's allocation under the Dominion Housing Scheme."

This statement was made this morning by Mayor Porter when he was asked what the civic authorities were going to do about the Housing Scheme. His Worship has now received a report on the subject from the City Solicitor, and he will bring the whole question before his colleagues to-night.

"The Council, I think," said the Mayor, "agrees with me that the scheme is not a good business proposition, but the pressure of public opinion may influence the adherents to accept the allocation. It is really impossible to say what they will do, though. I must say that the men who have applied to me so far for loans under the Housing Scheme are a fine class of citizens."

A large number of returned men are anxious that the city should accept its housing allocation and the Comrades of the Great War have passed a resolution favoring the adoption of the scheme by the civic authorities. The Great War Veterans, too, are also desirous of seeing money available for soldier homes. A considerable number of returned men already have applied for loans under the scheme, but many have refrained from doing so while waiting for the city to take definite action.

estimates in which was included $500,000 towards the construction of the dock.

"I thought it best to stay until the last dog was hung," said the Doctor, "and, though Vancouver, I understand, is still pulling for the dock, the thing is finally settled now. I don't see how there can be any truth in the report from Vancouver that the Government has not actually settled where the dock is to be. The money is in the estimates. The plans for the dock modelled after those of Champlain Dock will take about six weeks to prepare and I understand the contract for the work will be let in October. Preliminary work should start in November, thus helping to check unemployment in the winter."

Election Prospects.
Asked what he considered the possibilities of a general election, Dr. Toimie stated that he had not seen or heard anything to lead him to believe that the Union Government would go to the country this year.

Satisfied With Budget.
"I was very well satisfied with Sir Thomas White's budget," Dr. Toimie remarked. "This is no time for experiments. It would have been the height of folly for the Government to introduce sweeping changes at this time before adequate and thorough investigation had been made. It was far better for the Government to do as it did—make certain until there can have been proper investigation into trade and economic conditions as they are to-day."

Budget Difficulties.
"The formulation of the budget now," pursued the member for Victoria, "was a matter of almost incredible difficulty. Some of the members called for free trade, while others were equally loud in their demands for iron-clad protection. Some of them declared that free importation from the United States would bring down the cost of living here. I could not agree with this. In the first place, living in the United States today, I believe from my own observations when I was there recently, is higher than in Canada. Goods imported from the States would not make things cheaper than they are at present. Again, take the people on the prairies who are calling for the bars of protection to be lowered. As I told the House in a short speech on the Budget, these farmers are finding a steadily-increasing market in British Columbia. But what chance would they have against exporters in Seattle who, if the tariff was lowered, could ship American produce by boat to British Columbia, while the prairie farmer has to ship overland, a journey of six hundred miles and through the mountains? Again, I pointed out that if the tariff were lowered Canadian manufacturers would be absolutely unable to compete with those of Japan, who are able to get labor at fifty cents a day, while it costs $4 here. This country derives $160,000,000 from its tariff each year. Before abolishing this, it must see what it is going to get the money from. On the whole I think the Budget was satisfactory."

High Cost of Living Report.
When questioned on the report of the Commons Committee investigating the high cost of living, Dr. Toimie declared that the House had generally received it with approval. There was no doubt that the men composing the committee had done very valuable work.

It was suggested to the Doctor that the committee was not very hopeful regarding the possibilities of living costs decreasing.

Industrial Unrest.
"What else could you expect?" he answered. "The trouble is there is a world wide shortage of the necessities of life. Naturally they are expensive. There is doubtless profiteering going on in some places. This must be ferreted out. But in the main it is to be expected. These conditions are not confined to Canada. But in Paris to-day," the doctor pointed out, "is selling at $1.35, and there are 100,000 troops stationed there to keep order. The same applies in Italy. 'Some people,' said Dr. Toimie, "blame the Union Government for industrial unrest. That is not just. Industrial unrest is world-wide under all Governments."

Foreshadowing the work of the fall session of the House, the member for Victoria said that the most important work for that meeting would be the ratification of the Peace Treaty and the re-grading of the civil service.

VETERAN'S RETURN

Sergt.-Major William Baylis Home After Long Service Overseas: 57 Years Old.

After nearly three years' service during the recent war, and with a record of previous service in the Egyptian Campaign of 1882-84, Sergt.-Major William Baylis, of 1733 Fairfield Road, has recently returned from overseas. Although in his fifty-fourth year when war broke out, Mr. Baylis as an old campaigner of the Imperial service, felt the call of his country and left Victoria in June, 1916 as a sergeant in the signalling section of the 103rd Battalion. Arrived in England, his age militated against active service in France and he was appointed Sergeant-Major of the Transport section, later making successive trips to France in charge of drafts of men for this branch of the service.

Later he was attached to the staff of the Canadian Training School for Campaigners at Bexhill, and afterwards was

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and Sallie Waters

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard K. Garis)

"Are you going very far this morning Uncle Wiggly?" asked Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzy one day, as her rabbit gentleman friend started out from his hollow stump bungalow in his automobile.

"Oh, not so very far, Miss Fussy Wuzzy," answered Uncle Wiggly. "May I have the pleasure of bringing you back anything?"

"Yes," answered Nurse Jane, "I wish you would bring me a—"

And just then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggly accidentally spilled some pepper from the salt cellar on the bologna sausage fires of his auto, and away went the trolley car as fast as it could go, almost spilling the bunny rabbit off the sprinkling cart.

"I thought you wanted me to tell you what I needed from the store!" called Nurse Jane, as she saw Uncle Wiggly riding off in such a hurry.

"I did," he answered back, over his shoulder, at the same time putting his tall silk hat hard down on his head so it wouldn't blow off. "But I'm going too fast to stop now, Janie. When I come back I'll find out what you want from the store."

So away rode Uncle Wiggly, and Nurse Jane went back into the hollow stump bungalow.

"Uncle Wiggly is a funny rabbit," she said to herself. "I suppose he wants to have an adventure before he goes to the store for me."

Mr. Longears rode on and on, over the fields and through the woods, and all of a sudden, as he came to a lollypop tree, he heard, coming from behind it, a sad, crying voice.

"My! This sounds to me like trouble!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself as he stopped his machine. "I must see if I can do anything to help whoever is crying."

He hopped down, looked around the corner of the rubber plant and there he saw a little mouse girl, sitting at the foot of the tree, on a soft carpet of green moss. The little mouse girl who must have been a second cousin to Jilled Longtail, the sister of Jollie, looked up through her tears at Uncle Wiggly came closer.

"Excuse me," said the rabbit gentleman, "but who are you and why are you crying?"

"I am little Sallie Waters," was the answer, "and I am crying for a nice young man."

"Why are you crying for a nice young man?" asked Uncle Wiggly in surprise, thinking of Alice in Wonderland.

"I am crying for a nice young man because he doesn't want to cry for himself," said Sallie Waters. "He says it makes his eyes red, but as my eyes are already red I don't mind. So I'm crying for him. You must have heard about me. I'll sing it for you."

So Sallie sang:

"Little Sallie Waters,
Sitting in the sun,
Crying and weeping for a nice young man,
Rise, Sallie, rise!
Wipe your tears off on your frock,
And listen to the crying of the babies in our block!"

"Well! Well!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "I remember hearing that song when I was a young rabbit, many years ago. But do you always cry?"

"Oh, no! Only when I sit in the sun," answered Sallie. "And I've cried quite enough for to-day."

"Then suppose you come with me," invited Uncle Wiggly. "It is shady in my auto, and you need not sit in the sun and cry. Come home with me. Perhaps you are just what Nurse Jane was going to tell me she wanted."

So Sallie stopped crying and scrambled up on the seat of Uncle Wiggly's auto. They had not ridden very far before, all of a sudden, out from behind an umbrella plant, popped the bad old Pipseswah.

"Ah, ha! This time I have you!" cried the bad chap. "I'll get your mouse girl, and some mouse from that little mouse girl, too. I don't know what her name is, but—"

"My name is Sallie Waters," said the mouse girl. "And I—"

Just then the sun shone down sideways out of a cloud, and some of the sunshine touched Sallie. All at once she began to cry for the nice young man, just as she had done at first.

"Boo, hoo! Boo, hoo! Boo, hoo!" cried little Sallie Waters, sitting in the sun.

The Pipseswah looked at her in surprise.

"What's the matter?" he asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, nothing much," answered the rabbit.

"Oh, yes there is!" cried the Pipseswah.

JAPANESE WOMEN ARE EMINENT IN FINANCE

Many Become Successful Captains of Industry With Occidental Interests

New York, July 14.—That the Occidental woman has walked out of the "woman's sphere" is not so surprising. But when Japanese women, whose lives are devoted to arranging flowers, brewing tea and pleasing husbands, follow suit, the new era for women has come, according to a writer in the Tribune.

Take, for example, Mme. Yone Sukuki, of Kobe, a quiet, gentle Japanese woman, who has made $100,000,000 in American money since the war began. Her war brides were copper, cotton and sugar. She is the richest woman in the Land of Cherry Blossoms to-day and wears a medal and a decoration from the Emperor for stimulating export trade and commerce.

When her husband died, the management of his store fell upon her shoulders, and she didn't know a thing about running a store. But she still is head of the firm, which was one of the first to export Japanese camphor to Europe.

Later this capable woman established a peppermint factory in Kobe, a sugar factory in Moji, and bought the Kobe steel works, which employs 600 men. Until three years ago she was at her desk every morning. Now she comes down several times a week. Here is still the final word in all transactions of a business house that exports to every corner of the globe sugar, camphor, flour, rice, beans, copper, sulphur, coal, cotton, wax, oil, etc. Studied American Banking.

When Mme. Asa Hirooka, known as the "Iron Woman of Japan," died, the empire lost not only one of its richest citizens but one of the most influential women of the Orient. She was a member of the Mitsui family—the Vanderbilts of Japan.

As a little girl, Mme. Hirooka rebelled against the studies that taught the "great learning for women" to obey. With envious eyes she watched her small brother as he devoured book after book of adventure, which were all right for boys to read, but never, never for little girls. Her whole life was a protest against the inequality of the sexes.

When she was 17 she was married, which gave her freedom of a kind. Every minute of her time was spent in studying the American banking system, and all sorts of modern business methods. When her husband realized he was dying he sent for her and told her he was bankrupt.

Without a word the little Japanese wife went out and straightened up his affairs. In a few days she returned to his bedside and said: "Don't worry any more. I have made some transactions that will give you an annual income of $50,000. Now you can pay your creditors."

Enter Finance. The shock killed her husband and marked her entrance into the world of finance. She developed her husband's business on modern American banking policies, and the first in the history of Japan to do this. Mme. Hirooka developed coal mines, and was frightened enough to forecast industries, becoming interested in cotton and silk manufactures, railways, shipping and insurance.

In the last few years of her life she turned her entire business over to her son-in-law and traveled up and down the coast, preaching Christianity, for in the Bible she found the only religion that gave woman an equal chance with men.

"How long will it take to emancipate the women of Japan?" some one asked her. And her answer was, "Fifty years, and I shan't

Lieut. R. Stewart Smith, Who Went With Chinese Battalion, Returns to Coast.

Lieut. R. Stewart Smith, of Shanghai, who was at William Head for a considerable period in 1916 with a Chinese corps, has reached Seattle on his return from the front. Lieut. Smith enlisted in China with an officers' corps to take charge of Chinese coolies for France, and this brought him here en route to Europe.

Lieut. Smith will resume his duties as an official of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, with head offices at Shanghai, a position he gave up to enter the service under the British colors.

He is accompanied by Lieut. Norman Sanders, of Ottawa, who is on his way home after a brief visit to California. Lieut. Sanders was a member of the Twentieth Squadron of the Royal Flying Corps, stationed in Belgium, and is a possessor of the Mons star, which was issued to those who stemmed the German onslaught during 1914 and 1915. He enlisted in the university company of the Princess Pats, and was later transferred to the air service after his arrival at the front. The wounds that Lieut. Sanders received while being attacked by a number of German Fokkers resulted in the loss of an eye, two of the bullets having struck him in the head.

CLAIMS DECISION WILL BE REVERSED

W. D. Bayley Home From Prohibition Campaign in New Zealand

"The next fight on prohibition in New Zealand will be a winning one," forecasted W. D. Bayley, of Winnipeg, on his return from participation in the prohibition campaign in New Zealand. He was met on Saturday evening on board the Niagara by George Bell, M. P. Mr. Bell and Mr. Simpson returned in February, while Mr. Bayley completed a more extended tour.

Mr. Bayley had an invitation, he told The Times to continue his propaganda work until November, but had to return on account of educational needs of his family. He says that the soldiers, whose vote defeated the plebiscite, were influenced by the representation, and that a substantial majority will be swung over from them when the issue is again before the people. Mr. Bayley claims that one of the factors which contributed to defeat prohibition in New Zealand was the question of compensation to the trade concerned. That issue will not re-appear when the question is resubmitted at the next annual election, he stated. Like his fellow-speakers who preceded him home Mr. Bayley is greatly impressed with the hospitality and prosperity of the people of New Zealand.

He states there is another factor, too, which cannot fail to be appreciated, and that is the industrial calm there, compared with the social upheaval almost everywhere in the civilized world. New Zealand appears so far to have escaped the industrial storm which has beaten with hurricane fury on his own town, and naturally Mr. Bayley asked many questions with regards to the recent disturbances in Winnipeg.

Mr. Bayley and family are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bell before leaving for the east.

WILL BE SCREENED

W. A. McAdam, Publicity Commissioner, Arranges For Taking of Local Films

W. A. McAdam, Publicity Commissioner for the Victoria and Island Development Association, reports that in compliance with arrangements made by him with the British American Film Company the movie men returned to Victoria to-day to complete the taking of films for the association.

As views of the Gorge are to be taken Wednesday night it is hoped that a great throng of people will be in attendance in the park and around the swimming beach. The films will be taken at 7.30 o'clock.

Arrangements have also been made for photographing some of the best views of occurrences scheduled to take place in Victoria during the present week. For instance, the members of the Inter-State Realty Association which will be in convention here Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be snapped as the long line of automobiles starts off on its tour of island scenes.

The great Peace Day celebration, which is to take place on Saturday next, including the procession in the morning, the big gala at the Gorge and the fireworks display and general celebration in front of the Parliament Buildings, will be filmed.

All of these scenes will be screened as weekly news items through the Pathe and Universal film services. Arrangements have been made with one of the local picture show houses to produce a drama taken in the city of Victoria, and which will be shown in one of the local theatres.

NUMEROUS VISITORS

Leading Honolulu Residents
Welcome Opportunity to See
Vancouver Island

Victoria at the present time is the rendezvous of more Hawaiian visitors than has been the case for several years. Yet, according to J. J. Belser, president of the Honolulu Construction & Dray Company, and a well-known business man in the Territory, the number is nothing compared with what would have been the case had the transportation been more satisfactory from the islands. The delays affecting the Canadian-Australasian service are well known, and the islands have also been handicapped in the San Francisco-Insular run owing to the principal boats having been withdrawn from the service to transport American soldiers home.

Mr. Belser, who is accompanied by Mr. Drew, a well-known shipping man of Honolulu, states that he had personally to make his transportation arrangements six months ago. Under these circumstances many Hawaiian residents are taking their holidays at the volcanoes, and other resorts of the group.

Messrs. Belser and Drew, who are accompanied by their families, are meeting many residents from the islands here, who preceded them to Victoria. Like the majority of visitors, they contemplate an up-island tour, and left to-day for Sprat Lake. Both have just returned from a visit to Alaska on the Princess Alice.

Among arrivals from the islands, who reached Victoria late on Saturday

Forestry Department Determined to Save Timber Wealth From Fire Destruction

Since the reorganization of the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands an energetic campaign has been directed towards the highest point of efficiency in protection from forest fires. Throughout the whole of last year, in spite of a hot and hazardous season, the results of a carefully considered organization were obvious in the smaller number of serious fires and the lower cost of those which required active combat on the part of the staff of the Department.

Although so far this year there have been but few serious outbreaks, Forestry officials report to the Hon. T. D. Pattullo that the general public do not fully realize the amount of responsibility which rests upon it in connection with forest protection. The careless throwing away of lighted matches and negligence in the disposal of cigar and cigarette stubs is apparently still causing the Department a good deal of alarm.

Caught and Fined.
So much has this been the case that in its determination to prevent fires wherever possible there will be no lenience shown to such persons as may be found to have been negligent. Already during the present season there have been five successful prosecutions in the Vancouver Forest District—which includes Vancouver Island—and four of the culprits were fined $25 each and the fifth $75. For obstructing a forest ranger in the execution of his duty one mill foreman was relieved by legal process of $150 on account of his obstinacy.

In the Cranbrook District one man was fined $50 for carelessness in throwing away his cigarette, a proceeding which started a fire. Prompt detection subdued the outbreak and landed the culprit.

Testimony of growing efficiency is found in the fact that in the States of the Union to the immediate south, where conditions are identical many large fires have broken out already this year, yet this side has been comparatively free.

SPOKANE SENDING OVER TEAM OF CRACK SWIMMERS FOR BIG GALA

Portland, Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver and Ladysmith Will Have Strong Teams Here to Compete for Championships—Local Swimmers Are Backward in Entering Meet

Spokane is the latest city to forward entries in the grand P. N. A. swimming gala to be held on the Gorge on Saturday afternoon. Five crack water stars from the inland centre will be here to compete with the best swimmers from Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, Victoria and Ladysmith, and it is safe to predict that this will be the finest meet of its kind ever held on the Pacific Coast. This galaxy of swimmers includes some of the fastest and most phenomenal divers and speed and endurance swimmers that this section of the country has ever produced.

The Spokane entries are as follows:
Herbert Kellar—220 yards and 500 yards.
George McKay—50 yards, 100 yards, 220 yards, 100 yards breast stroke, 200 yards breast stroke, 100 yards back stroke.
Verne Cunningham—50 yards, 100 yards, 220 yards, 100 yards back stroke, 200 yards back stroke.
Harold Gleason—50 yards, 100 yards, 220 yards.
Earl Taft—Fancy diving from ten-foot board, high diving.

Cup For Winning Team.
A splendid silver cup has been presented by Little & Taylor, local jewellers, for the club scoring the greatest number of points in the championship meet. The points will be awarded as follows: Five points for first place, three points for second place, two points for third place and one point for fourth place. Relay and water polo, ten points for first place and five for second place.

The competition for this piece of silver plate will be very keen amongst the various teams entered for the championships. On paper the Multnomah Athletic Club, of Portland, and the Crystal Pool, of Seattle, seem to have the best chance of annexing the cup as they are both sending the pick of their many well-known swimming stars, some of whom are Pacific Northwest champions. Victoria, Spokane and Ladysmith are, however, in the running and will do their best to capture the coveted trophy.

Local Swimmers Apathetic.
The management of the V.N.A.A. which is arranging the gala is greatly disappointed at the lack of sportsmanship shown by the rest of the Victoria swimming clubs towards this championship meet. Only one entry has been made from any of the other clubs, namely, J. Wenger of the Y.M.C.A. All of the other swimmers have failed to be out on time. It is a well known fact that the visiting swimmers are considered to be very much faster in all of the events on the programme with the exception of the 100-yard, than any of the local swimmers, yet that should not deter any local athlete who is interested in his branch of sport, from entering.

WEST PRACTICE TONIGHT.
The Victoria West lacrosse team will hold a practice this evening at 6.30 o'clock at the North Ward Park. All the players are asked to be out as the team will be picked to play against the Nationals on Wednesday evening.

QUIMET COMES BACK.
Winchester, Mass., July 14.—Francis Quimet regained the amateur golf championship of Massachusetts, which he last held in 1915, by defeating Jesse Guilford, the champion, by 3 and 6, in the twenty-six hole final at the Winchester Country Club on Saturday.

AUZIES FAVORITES IN EIGHT-OARED EVENT ON SEINE

Paris, July 14.—The final event in the rowing regatta of the inter-allied games will be held on the Seine, July 17 and 18. Ten countries have crews entered—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, England, France, Belgium, Italy, Portugal, Czechoslovakia and the United States.
There will be three strong crews in the eight-oared event from Cambridge University, England, Australia and the United States, with the Aussies the favorite. The United States crew is favorite in the four-oared event, D. C. Hadfield, of New Zealand, is considered the probable winner in the single sculls.
The Canadian, French, English, United States, Australian and New Zealand crews have just arrived here from Henley regatta, where the Australians won the eight-oared race.

end on a foul fly and scored on Townsend's hit.

Two Jacks Come Back.
Two Jacks came right back and sent over two runs, Moore scoring on a wild pitch and McMahon scoring on Burnes two-base drive. In the eighth the Colliers won the game. Roy Copas was hit by a pitched ball and Baker was safe on an error. Gravin hit to right field, scoring Copas and Baker. Cummings hit to Moore, who tried to hold Gravin at third, and then was too late to get Cummings at first. Cummings and Gravin both scored on a wild pitch to third. In the last innings each team chalked up another run.

BASEBALL
In the slugging match yesterday Chicago walked over Boston. Each team used three pitchers and thirty-two hits were made. While the White Sox were out winning the New York Yankees got a trimming from Detroit. A batting rally by the Tigers in the ninth gave them the game over the Yanks. Cobb got his eye back and hit hard, driving in three of the Tigers' runs. Cleveland continued its climb by walloping Washington. The Indians won the game in the eighth inning when they staged a thrilling triple steal. Coveleskie pitched a good game for the Indians.

BOTH GOAL-KEEPERS CHASED FROM GAME
Vancouver Wins From Westminster After Hot Struggle; Their First Win

Vancouver, July 14.—There was some hot work inside both creases on Saturday in the game between New Westminster and Vancouver at Athletic Park. In the last quarter play became very close and the homes in boring in rushed the goal-tenders with the result that the wood was frequently used. The Greenshirts finally won out by 10-7. This was their first win of the season. Play was very even. In the last quarter Vancouver had a one-goal lead, and by fast work added two more, while the Royals were being kept out by the defence.

The team lined up as follows:
Vancouver Goal Oddy
Shillingsford Point Chambers
Gillanders Cover Brown
Mouat 1st Defence Schlater
Gill 2nd Defence Rennie
McConaghy 3rd Defence Stoddart
Peterson Centre W. Oddy
Hill 3rd Home E. Pentland

Military doubles: Bickle and Chipman beat Jarvis and Cochrane, 6-2, 6-3.

FIFTH REGIMENT SHOOT
Conditions were very favorable for high scoring at the weekly shoot of the 5th Regiment, C. G. A., held at Clover Point Saturday afternoon. To some it was an experience with a slightly shifting, and dropping, of a light breeze. Two scores of a century or over were made. Sergeant Hutchins was the only one to record a 100, which is excellent at any time. Gun. Ommundsen follows closely with an even 100, and wins the spoon in "B" class. Lieut.-Col. Angus is promoted to "A" class.

MACHINE GUNNERS MEET

Will Discuss Important Matters To-morrow Night in Peace Day Parade.

All machine gunners in this city are requested to attend a meeting to be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in Room 217, Pemberton Block. Several important matters in connection with this new active militia unit will be dealt with.

At the request of many machine gunners in Victoria and vicinity, all units of the Canadian Machine Gun Corps will be represented in the big Peace Day Celebrations.

As there are in Victoria many former members of all four machine gun battalions, and of the two motor machine gun brigades, it has been felt that they should be represented in a machine gun corps parade.

All returned machine gunners are requested to turn out with the old "Maroon Arrow Boys" on Saturday.

Full particulars of the parade may be obtained on applying to the H. Q. 11th M. G. Bde.-Bay Street Armoury. Phone 4476.

Court of Appeal—The Court of Appeal will sit here at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning for the purpose of handing down judgments in connection with the rather lengthy list of appeals recently heard in Victoria.

Messrs. Palmers Brothers, contractors of Vancouver, have opened temporary offices at 1212 Broad Street, in the office of the Kirk Coal Co. Phone 4049.

Forty-Eighth Battalion.—All ex-officers, N. C. O.'s and men are requested to attend a special meeting to be held at the K. of C. Army Hut, Fort Street, at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, for the purpose of making arrangements for the Peace Day celebrations.

Book Shower for K. of C. Hut.—Under the auspices of the Ladies' Committee of the K. of C. Army Hut a book shower will be held at the hut on Wednesday afternoon, when it is hoped sufficient books will be donated to furnish the nucleus of a library for the service and ex-service men who frequent the hut. During the afternoon tea will be served.

Withdraw Charges.—Appearing on a charge of infraction of the Trades License By-Law, R. W. Green, Donald Hay and J. E. McKee appeared in the Police Court Saturday. It is alleged that these men took orders for hospital equipment at the recent B. C. Hospital convention. The City Council was requested last night by R. S. Day, President of the Hospital Board of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, not to press the case, but to warn the alleged offenders that they would be prosecuted if they repeated the offence. The Council replied that it could not discriminate. This morning, however, the charges against these gentlemen were withdrawn on condition that they pay a license fee of $50 each. This fee will entitle them to trade only to the end of July 15, when the new Trades License By-Law will come into force.

Installing Bridge.—The City Engineer's Department is at present engaged in building a small bridge over Bowker Creek on Richmond Road. The former bridge was in a rather dilapidated condition.

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR GREATER PRODUCTION

Province Sends Out Nearly $23,000,000 For Food Alone

British Columbia imported last year $18,000,000 worth of agricultural products from other parts of Canada and $3,495,611 worth of products of this nature from foreign points. While the figures from Canada show an increase of 10.75 per cent. in value, there was an actual decrease in quantity of 4.18 per cent. The explanation, of course, is due to the higher cost of all food commodities.

The agricultural statistics for 1918 have just been issued by the Provincial Agricultural Department. While G. H. Stewart is now holding the position of statistician, the report is that of A. H. Tweedie, who resigned from the Department in March.

His summary follows: "Owing to the spring of 1918 being later than average and the scarcity of labor, the volume of agricultural production only slightly exceeded that of the previous year, yet prices realized were such as to result in an increase in the total value of $1.28 per cent. over 1917. The outstanding increases occurred in meats, fruits and fodder."

Total imports of food products during 1918 show an increase of 10.7 per cent. over the previous year, due to high prices.

While figures are not available showing exports, the total value is estimated to have been $5,000,000, consisting chiefly of fruit and vegetables. Fruits.—The total production of all fruits in 1918 shows an increase of only 0.7 per cent. over 1917, yet the greatly increased prices realized throughout resulted in a total value of $2.99 per cent. greater than 1917 and 33.9 per cent. since 1913. The quantity in the same period shows an increase of 18.5 per cent.

Vegetables.—Although the area of potatoes in 1918 was slightly less than the previous year, the total yield was 24.6 per cent. greater, whilst owing to increased prices the total value was $9.2 per cent. greater than 1917.

The total area of root-crops was 25.4 per cent. and the total yield 40.2 per cent. greater than in 1917. A marked increase in the total yield of tomatoes occurred, especially in the Okanagan Valley, and where the average price was $20 per ton for canneries purposes.

Grains.—The total area sown to grains as shown by the June census was 11.3 per cent. greater than in 1917. Owing to unfavorable weather, a larger percentage than usual was cut as hay or green feed, thus reducing the area of threshing grains to slightly below 1917. The total yield of all grains was 33.8 per cent. below 1917, yet the high price realized resulted in the total value being only 14.3 per cent. less.

Fodders.—The total area of all fodders was 2.2 per cent. lower than 1917. Unfavorable growing conditions also reduced the average yield of clover and timothy, so that the total yield of all fodders was 4.1 per cent. lower than 1917.

Prices were exceedingly high: clover and timothy averaging $33 and wild hay $20 as against $17.50 and $15 in 1917. The total value of fodders in 1918 was 69.9 per cent. greater than 1917.

Live Stock.—Horses show a decrease in numbers of 19.9 per cent. since 1917, due to large numbers being exported and increased use of motors in the Province.

Cattle show an increase in total number of 2.5 per cent. over the previous year. Dairy cattle still continue to show an increase in numbers, there being recorded in 1918 4 per cent. more dairy cows than in 1917.

Sheep increased in numbers over 20 per cent. over 1917. Not only were many imported for breeding purposes but breeders have, as during the previous two or three years reserved the ewes from the main flock in 1917.

Swine increased in numbers 5.6 per cent. over 1917.

Poultry, owing to the continued high prices of feedstuffs, show a falling off in number of 26.7 per cent. Notwithstanding, the total value of poultry and eggs during the year shows an increase of 10.3 per cent. due to the high prices prevailing.

Meats.—The total quantity of meats marketed during the year increased 25.3 per cent. whilst the total value was 77.6 per cent. greater. The chief increase was in beef. The total value of meats imported during the year was 35.9 per cent. greater than in 1917.

Dairy Products.—The cold, backward spring and subsequent drought in the Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island sections of the Province had the effect of materially reducing the milk-flow amongst dairy herds. There was a marked increase in the quantity of butter manufactured by creameries.

It is interesting to note the increase in the quantity of cheese manufactured during the year, this being 250,674 lb. as against 43,400 lb. in 1917 and 18,000 lb. in 1916. The total value of all dairy products in 1918 increased 13.1 per cent. over 1917.

Total imports of dairy products during the year increased in value 10.8 per cent. over 1917.

PEACE FESTIVAL IS PROGRESSING WELL

Plans For Saturday's Great Celebration Now in Hand

The Peace Day celebration committee to-day concentrated its attention upon arranging the programme details, particularly the illuminations.

Children On Empress Lawn. Permission has been given by Col. B. M. Humble, manager of the Empress Hotel, for the use of the lawn between the hotel and the Causeway to mass the children upon during the singing of patriotic songs while the procession passes. The hotel facade will be illuminated.

J. C. McIntosh, M. P., has communicated with the Federal Public Works Department to secure authority for the illumination of the Post Office building on Saturday evening.

The fleet of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will be brought round to the Inner Harbor and illuminated for the occasion.

Military Plans. Major A. D. Macdonald, late of the Royal Artillery, invites all Imperial army men to meet him at his office, 515 Central Building, with a view to Imperial joining in the parade on Saturday.

Col. Moore, whose letter was published in The Times on Saturday, setting out the military participation in the parade, wishes to state that the list of regiments there detailed had no significance in the order of the procession, and that the actual parade arrangements will be determined by the position of the divisions in France, or else by priority in going overseas.

Officers and other ranks who served with the Canadian Forestry Corps, and who wish to march with their unit on the parade are requested to notify Major Barnett Hardy, 1776 Beach Drive, or telephone 5439X.

Parliament Buildings. The scenic illumination of the Parliament Buildings will be so arranged that for a period of fifteen minutes changes of five different colors will be flashed out, finishing up with a great radiance of light that will dwarf all else into insignificance.

It will be the first time that such a display has been attempted here, and the whole scheme will be on the line of that followed at the Crystal Palace, London. It was these radiance lights that, hung from parachutes, lighted the battlefields in Europe and the sky over the many cities of the world carried out by the Germans in the dog-days when British official photographs gained their unerring evidence of the enemy's guilt.

Thomas G. Hitt advises everyone to bring a camera along as it will be possible to secure exceptional pictures. Moving picture men will be on hand to take films of the scene. Large electrical banners bearing the inscription "Peace With Honor" will be erected, and every building in the city will be lighted up, large blocks in the downtown section having arranged to illuminate their buildings.

MANUFACTURERS' PROTEST

Minimum Wage Board Will Discuss the Subject in Vancouver To-morrow.

To discuss the whole question of the operation of the Minimum Wage in the light of the protest recorded by the British Columbia Manufacturers' Association, J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, will go over to Vancouver on to-night's boat to meet the Board in conference to-morrow.

ELEVATOR EXAMINATION

Candidates Are Slow in Making Their Way to Factory Inspector's Office For Tests.

Up to the present time some couple of dozen elevator operators have presented themselves to the Factory Inspector at the Parliament Buildings for the purpose of writing the necessary paper of qualification. The papers will not be adjudicated upon until the examination of candidates is complete. In the meantime all those operators who are desirous of maintaining their qualification for service in the capacity are urged to present themselves without delay.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

Chairman of Board Will Be in City to Hear Local Claims This Week.

E. S. H. Winn, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, is expected over at the offices of the board in the Parliament Buildings on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Winn's visit will be in connection with local claims which require personal attention.

Held in the highest esteem by those who appreciate its musical qualities.

The Nordheimer Grand Piano

The fact that four generations of Canadians have chosen the Nordheimer Piano, and are showing to-day such a marked preference for this purely Canadian instrument that it is almost impossible for factory output to keep pace with the demand. Surely that is evidence of Nordheimer quality, dependability and value.

We are fortunate in having some beautiful examples of Nordheimer piano-craft on display in our store this week. The Nordheimer Grand we picture above is peerless in tone, appearance and worth at

"EYES OF THE SOUL" AT DOMINION THEATRE

Artcraft Picture Will Star Elsie Ferguson This Week

Chaplin's long waited for third million dollar comedy, "Sunnyside," will delight crowds at the popular Yates Street picture house. Charlie's popularity seems to grow with every production he appears in. He is as funny as ever. Quick action marks the whole picture. Charlie is the full staff of help at a country hotel, and is obliged to go to bed with his clothes on so that he may waste no time in getting up in the morning. The getting up operation starts off the comedy with a bang, and there is no let up; it is fast and funny all through.

One of the largest sets ever built in a motion picture studio is that of the Palm Garden cabaret in Elsie Ferguson's latest Artcraft picture, "Eyes of the Soul," which is also shown at the Dominion Theatre this week. It is a full sized cabaret, a flight of steps leading up to the stage from the restaurant which takes in perhaps twenty-five tables within the camera's range.

The story deals with a little cabaret dancer who is loved by an elderly man, a judge and a member of one of the South's finest families. He is first attracted to her by her beauty and grace, and after making her acquaintance, he realizes that not only is she possessed of a curious code of her own by which she lives, but she has many excellent qualities.

Mrs. Ferguson portrays the stellar part, wearing a costume resembling that of a pigeon. A dancing instructor was engaged to give Miss Ferguson a few lessons in a bird dance and walk, which she does admirably. She is accompanied by twenty girls all chosen for their grace and beauty from Broadway shows.

When the carrier pigeon makes her way slowly down the steps from the cabaret stage in time with the music, the judge ties a note on her wrist. The pigeon takes the note back to the dressing room, and after reading it, well-things begin to look different in her life, and it wouldn't be fair to tell the story. The picture is based upon George West's story, "The Salt of the Earth," which appeared in The Saturday Evening Post.

Beware of fruit which has lain on shop fronts exposed to flies and dust. It should be well washed if it is to be eaten raw.

HE LAUGHS BEST WHO VISITS "PAN"

Cracking Good Bill of Variety Numbers at Pantages

Kathryn McConnell, eccentric dancer with the "1919 Song and Dance Revue," which heads the Pantages programme which began this afternoon, wears some of fashion's most extravagant creations. She is first the hoydenish miss in flaming red costume, then a winsome creature in black; and again a dazzling bit of femininity in ballet of Parisian blue. Her dances punctuate a review of the year's dances, capably staged.

The revue includes a beach scene, with bathing beauties in array that never rode the breakers; a hunt scene, in which the pretty maids wear fetching suits of red and white; a snow scene characterized with Russian dances and the act has a whirlwind finish with the ensemble. Miss Kathryn McConnell adds to her repertoire of clever dances the Hawaiian hula-hula, wearing the customary "shredded wheat" skirt to complete her costume.

Two travelers said to hail from Arkansas, Myers and Weaver, are a pair of fifty rube comedians. They have the happy faculty of extracting music from almost anything that comes along and just simply take the audience to their own during the interval of their act.

Joseph Greenwald and company present a wholesome comedy entitled "Lots and Lots of It." This has a real estate deal as its dominating plot, and makes a laughing riot. His battle with the "sharks" will become famous as a producer of side aches.

Bert Melrose, an international clown, is easily peer of all balancers, performing some of the most difficult tricks where the slightest miscalculation might send him hurtling to the stage from on high. He closes his act with a thriller. Amoros and Obeys are a pair of Parisian eccentrics who do speedy acrobatics and comedy juggling and singing, and Betty Brooks, the "Glad-some Girl," is of pleasing personality and sings in charming voice. She then imitates a few of the famous dancers. It is a great bill this week.

The big special Geraldine Farrar picture which Frank Lloyd has been making at the Goldwyn studios is nearing completion and by all accounts is a remarkably fine feature. It is said that Frank Lloyd will have Pauline Frederick for his next star, after which he will work on big all-star special features.

SELECT PRODUCTION AT VARIETY THIS WEEK

Anna Case, Prima Donna, Now in Pictures; "The Hidden Truth"

Anna Case, considered to be one of the most beautiful women in grand opera, and for years a prominent member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, heard the click of the moving picture camera, became infatuated with its sound and returned to hear more of the delightful music. Thus did this beautiful prima donna enter the portals of the moving picture world to worship at the shrine of the lens. The lure of the screen is in her blood, and she will soon occupy the role of a dual star in the musical and film firmaments. Miss Case will be seen on the Variety screen this week in her first picture, "The Hidden Truth," a Select production.

That she will be successful in her new venture is a foregone conclusion for two reasons: Julius Steger personally supervised the direction of Miss Case's first picture, and Julius Steger has an almost uncanny reputation for picking winners; besides, the beautiful young star has shown, in her grand opera work that she possesses unusual dramatic ability, and the manner in which she has climbed to the heights in her musical career proves she has something that is equally essential—an indomitable will to succeed.

In "The Hidden Truth," a picture of Western mining camps and Eastern society, Anna Case is called upon to portray a wide range of character. As Helen Merrill, the heroine of the story, she is first introduced to us as a dancing girl in a dance hall in a mining camp out West. She befriends Myrtle Cadby, another dancing girl, whose husband mistreats her.

Myrtle becomes ill and on her deathbed gives Helen a letter which she says is to an old friend of her father's in the East. She tells Helen to go there, as she will be treated kindly. When Myrtle dies Helen comes East.

She arrives at the home of Charles Taylor, the man to whom the letter is addressed. Love soon enters their lives and they become engaged. Taylor discovers that Helen has been misrepresenting herself and tells her he no longer loves her. She saves him from being swindled in a mining deal and he finds that, no matter who she is, he loves her for herself alone.

MARY M'LAREN IS STRONGLY SUPPORTED

In "Creaking Stairs" Principal
Has Good Backing;
At Columbia

Coming to the Columbia to-day for a three-day showing is "Creaking Stairs," Mary McLaren's newest special release, in which she has an excellent story, a brilliant cast and direction of the finest sort, provided by Rupert Julian.

"Creaking Stairs" is a story with a not unusual theme, but with a climax that is terrific and a denouement that is historic in film-making. The personality of Mary McLaren and the direction of Julian provide the rest.

"Creaking Stairs" is a preachment against "the easiest way," without being in any sense, preachy. The moral is so bound up with the story that it has no entity. In other words, the story itself is the moral. We see the working out of the cycle of life; reversion to type, if you will. "Dearie" Lane is at first a florist's helper. She is "Dearie" to everyone and anyone—until luxury's lure and the desires of a worldly, ignorant girl are accomplished.

"Dearie" becomes the "companion" of a wealthy man. Her transformation is complete. Instead of a hall room, she has a palace; in place of dolls, dogs; the cheap jewelry is cast away for genuine gems. Glorious frocks, sartorial splendors are hers.

And she does not realize her palace is a cage, her dogs a mockery, her jewels unreal, until—there enters The Man.

Poor, struggling against the tide of exacting life—but winning. He represents to love-denied "Dearie" the Bluebird of Happiness. He believes his beloved is spotless; she lets him continue so to believe. She bursts the bonds her love-moribund patron has cast around her—and marries the man. Then—the blasting climax, the visitation of her sins of the past on "Dearie"—and her salvation. Supporting Miss McLaren are Jack Mulhall, Clara Lee, Selwyn, Lucretia Harris and Herbert Prior.

MARGARITA FISHER NOW AT ROMANO

Is Starring in "Molly of the Follies" For Three Days

"Molly of the Follies" is Margarita Fisher's latest picture, and in many respects presents her in the most brilliant vehicle she has had during her screen career as star of the American Film Company.

This offering is considered Miss Fisher's very best by far. In addition to being a riot of laughs, "Molly of the Follies" has a good thrilling story. There is more heart interest in this than in most comedies.

Miss Fisher portrays the role of Molly, the ballyhoo dancer in a side-show at Coney Island. Other freaks of the sideshow are the Human Submarine, which part is played by Jack Mower, Margarita Fisher's leading man; fortune teller and "high mystic" of the troupe who is also Molly's mother. The latter role is taken by Luke Warrenton.

There is a breezy young chap in this story who, because of his ardent admiration for Molly, keeps things going. But whatever the origin of the plot, it remains that it makes one of the most entertaining photoplays that the management of the Romano has shown for some time.

The showing of the Pathe serial, "The Lightning Raider," starring fearless Pearl White, will be resumed this week, following its detention in Vancouver on account of transportation difficulties during the strike. It will be shown on the Romano screen Tuesday and Wednesday, as a special added attraction.

Vitaphone will shortly release its latest picture starring Alice Joyce, "The Spark Divine," which was especially written to fit her personality.

Dorothy Green and Arthur Ashley have begun their second picture with the World Film Corporation which bears the title of "The Praise Agent." It is being directed by Frank Crane. Lucille La Verne, a famous character actress of the legitimate stage, has a prominent role in their support.

HARPER SEAPLANE TO OVERTAKE LINER

per C. Mayer, Red Cross Worker, Joined Kashima at Port Townsend

Missing connections with the N. Y. liner Kashima Maru at Seattle by narrow margin through delay in getting his passport, Jasper C. Mayer, of Washington, D. C., bound for Siberia as a camp service director of the American Red Cross, chartered a seaplane and with Pilot Eddie Hubbard at the controls succeeded in overtaking the Japanese liner off Port Townsend. After taking aboard the passenger the Kashima Maru continued her voyage to Victoria and arrived from this port Saturday evening for the Orient. Mr. Mayer's passport did not arrive from San Francisco until Saturday morning and he had to get it fixed and catch the ship at 10:45 a. m. The ship left on time, but the consul did not get his office until 10:25, so it was to Mr. Mayer to take extraordinary measures or wait two weeks until the next sailing.

"I never missed a boat or a train in my life and I don't want to begin with," he mused, and immediately conceived the idea of chartering a seaplane. Eddie Hubbard's machine was chartered simultaneously with the thought and left with the Red Cross worker at 11:50 a. m., overtaking the Kashima Maru just before it arrived at Port Townsend. The plane sailed alongside the big passenger carrier, but as there did not appear to be any inclination on the part of the ship's officers to lower a boat, the seaplane headed into Port Townsend, and Mr. Mayer went out the liner in the pilot launch. The cost Mr. Mayer $75, but he was willing to pay $100, and as his salary did not begin until he got on the boat was ahead at that.

Other members of the Red Cross party that left on the Kashima were Mr. Henry O. Eversoll, of Los Angeles, who is to be deputy commissioner to Siberia for the Red Cross, and have charge of a good deal of the work there under Lieut. Col. R. B. Usher; Lieut. James J. Johnson, of Grand View, Mich., who has been in the medical department at Camp Lewis; Denver J. McLeod, of Spokane; Stephen S. Paine, of Spokane; Charles H. Wegge, of Minneapolis; and Daniel S. Putnam, of Seattle, who are going as pharmacists, and Carl R. Myers, of Minneapolis, who is to have charge of the business of the party en route and be a camp service supervisor in Siberia.

ROBBERS BUSY ON LINER AT AUCKLAND

Personal Articles Valued at
$1,500 Removed From Passenger Cabins of Niagara

On her arrival here from Australasia the liner Niagara was minus two of her original crew, Charles J. N. Harris and William Harris, both of whom were arrested, found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail in New Zealand for helping themselves to the ship's silver.

The arrests developed from an investigation of numerous thefts which took place on the Niagara while she was lying at Queen's Wharf, Auckland, but the two members of the crew were not suspected of robbing the passengers. The cabins robbed were all in the first class accommodation, and clothing and other articles of a total value of $1,500, including a fur coat valued at $600 were stolen. While the detectives were searching the ship, others stationed on the wharf saw the fur coat floating near the steamship, the presumption being that it had been pushed through a port hole. The cabins entered were all in the first saloon and the passengers who lost property were Messrs. James, Helen, R. G. Casey, Ruby Dixon, Messrs. W. R. Holt, W. Cairns Harper, S. B. Yeomans and H. E. Thoneman. The articles stolen included silk dresses, silk stockings, suits of clothes and smaller articles, such as silver-backed hair brushes. It was during the search for these missing goods that the detectives came across the stolen silver from the ship.

SCHOONER LAUREL WHALEN IN TROUBLE

Last Voyage of Victoria-Built
Ship Was a Series of Misadventures

News of the Canadian five-masted auxiliary schooner Laurel Whalen, second vessel of her type to be built at Victoria by the Cameron-Genoa Mills Shipbuilders, Ltd., for the Canada West Coast Navigation Company, was brought by the liner Niagara which reached here Saturday night from Auckland. The Laurel Whalen has been lying at Auckland for the past five months and a writ of arrest was recently issued against the vessel. The writ was issued on behalf of the crew, who, it is alleged, had not been paid the balance of their wages since a New Zealand court decided they were to be paid off owing to the articles having expired in April.

The last voyage of the Laurel Whalen is said to have been an unfortunate one, and will prove expensive for the owners. Since she left the British Columbia coast in April, 1918, the vessel has been in constant trouble. On the voyage to Adelaide she put into Honolulu and Sydney, owing to engine trouble, and did not reach Adelaide until August 25.

Returning to Sydney she loaded a mixed cargo for Vancouver, leaving Adelaide on November 2. After clearing the South Australian port trouble was again experienced with her engines. This was on December 2, and it was decided to make for Auckland, 2,500 miles distant, and she reached the New Zealand port under sail on January 2.

When the Niagara was at Auckland repairs to the Laurel Whalen were practically complete, and it was expected that she would shortly put to sea.

Judgment Given.
In the action brought by H. Smith, engineer of the Laurel Whalen, against Hugh Doherty, master, and representative of the owners, to determine the question as to whether the officers and crew were entitled to be discharged, Mr. Justice Cooper, of Auckland, N. Z., gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff on the ground that the period of service of the men and crew terminated on April 3, 1919, and, according to the agreement signed by the men, the limits of the voyage were to be seventy degrees north and sixty-one degrees south and New Zealand was not within the limits. Mr. Justice Cooper also granted the men their pay and free passage home.

In delivering his judgment, Judge Cooper did not find any fault with the ship's master, as it was clearly proved that the delay had not been caused by any neglect on his part but rather by a series of accidents over which he had no control.

In the evidence it developed that a number of seamen had deserted the ship at Honolulu on May 29, 1918, and their places had been taken by six Russians, who also entered suit against the ship's owners for wages of $15 per month instead of $60, but the judge did not uphold this claim.

Brown: "Stout people, they say are rarely guilty of meanness or crime." Robinson: "Well you see, it's so difficult for them to stoop to anything low."

First Keel Plate Laid At Harbor Marine Yard

Construction Started on First of Two 8,100-Ton Steel Steamships This Forenoon—Plant Is Now Ready to Forge Ahead on Government Contract

Actual construction work on the first of the two 8,100-ton steel steamships to be built in Victoria by the Harbor Marine Company, Ltd., was inaugurated this forenoon when the first keel plate was laid down at the Hospital Point shipyard. Practically all the steel required for the completion of the first hull has been delivered at the yard, and with the equipment now available at the plant it is predicted that rapid progress in construction will be made during the next few months.

The construction of the two 8,100-tonners will be under the direct supervision of J. Clark, naval architect and engineer, who has been associated with the Harbor Marine Company since the Government contract was awarded. The keel blocks destined to support the first ship were laid last week-end, and with the keel plates all lined up the organization was in a position to get down to business.

Six Months to Build.
Officials of the Harbor Marine Company anticipate that the first hull will be ready for launching in about six months. Sixteen keel plates will be laid before a start is made on the floors and frames.

All the heavy steel to go into the ship will be distributed from a platform on a level with the upper yard, where the steel plates are stored, to any desired location along the slipways, by a huge Colby travelling crane. This enormous crane, which will be operated on tracks running between the two slipways, is now being completed, and will be ready for operation within a few days. By this method the steel will be distributed between the two ships with every facility.

As the work on this contract advances the force of workmen will be correspondingly increased. As far as possible returned soldiers are being employed on the Government contract, and at the present time practically every man on the payroll is a returned veteran.

Most of the machinery has already been installed in the building erected by Sol Cameron on the shipbuilding site. From the present indications there will be considerable activity at the new steel yard on the Songhees Reserve.

SECOND TRIAL TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Hull 216 Now Ready for Official
Test; Another Launching
This Week

Five days after the delivery of the first ship to the French Government the Foundation Company plans to put the second vessel of the fleet through her trials on Wednesday.

The installation of engines and boilers has been completed aboard Hull 216 and to-day the vessel will go into drydock at Esquimalt for overhaul preparatory to undergoing her official steam and endurance trials.

The Ogden Point outfitting plant is now driving ahead at high pressure and the schedule calls for the turning out of a completed ship every ten days. The first time will easily be maintained, providing deliveries of material are kept up.

The next vessel to be completed will be Hull 209.

Launching This Week.
Practically everything is in readiness for the launching of Hull 213 at the Point Hope plant of the Foundation Company. This launch is scheduled to take place on Friday. The vessel will be christened Victoria in honor of the port of origin.

"A Woman Is As Old As She Looks"

—And how often it is a row of unsightly teeth—or the lack of several teeth—that makes a woman look "the years she has never lived."

And so it is with men, only the world is less critical when 'tis said—

"A Man Is As Old As He Feels"

Teeth again can make or mar a man's fitness as well as his appearance. Sound teeth, nature's own or scientifically made artificial ones, are something that every man or woman of to-day can possess at a trifle of the expense charged in former years.

Call and let me examine your teeth. Let me tell you about the modern dental methods
I practice.

TRANSMITTED BY AIR MAIL

It has been truly remarked that half of the world does not know how the other half lives—though which half is the ignorant half is not clear stated.

But that as it may, there are nevertheless many industries of which the general public knows nothing, and which is the object of these brief notes.

It is the object of these brief notes to give a general idea of the nature and indirect defiance of the No Trade Order from the lips of the actual workers themselves, to bring the public to the prominence they so richly deserve.

The Strength of a Samson.

The reader has no doubt noticed when considering biscuits that each biscuit is punctured with a number of little, empty, hollow holes, which are the cause of the great circulation of a current of air.

of these diminutive orifices has been patiently evacuated with a pin by members of the community of "biscuit-punchers." As may be readily imagined, this is a task demanding the greatest precision of the hand and eye, and in the case of some species of "biscuit"—notably the army biscuit, which contains, apparently, a large proportion of rock men employed exclusively in this fascinating industry, who bore biscuits day and each other all the evening. work of highly-skilled artisans, known as "corkscrew-twisters".

From their earliest days these men are trained to "think spirally" instead of imperially, and even as babies they are taught slowly to gyrate in the cradles as preliminary preparation for the life-work that lies before them.

Without this early training the corkscrew-twister would undoubtedly be subject to vertigo, pimento, and other afflictions of a giddy nature, thus making the proper carrying out of

Lack of space (I am only allowed this column) and time (I have a sitting lesson directly) only permit me to refer very briefly to other alluring occupations, amongst which I should like to mention the whitebait-bleach of Bletchingley, whose task it is to peel discoloured whitebait through the

The LOGICAL WAY

Looking at the question in a purely logical way, there is no reason for paying exorbitant prices for undertaking services. What we are called upon to take charge of is a human body, and the same motive which impels us to do the very best we can also prevents us from taking advantage of the occasion to impose unnecessary expense upon the family we serve.

ences between employer and employed makes its effects felt in every allied or related industry. For example, hundreds of establishments in the metal trade have been shut down during the last two months with the result that orders for iron and steel have fallen off, and already one large industry in Nova Scotia has been compelled to close down, throwing out of employment hundreds of skilled workmen. In British Columbia a large smelting establishment is unable to continue its business for lack of coke, which can not be supplied owing to strikes in the mining districts.

Strikes Destructive.

"No one would claim or even suggest that injustices in respect of hours or wages should not be redressed by reasonable and effective means, but lockouts and strikes are almost as destructive as war itself in waste and loss which they occasion and in disturbing influence upon the industrial life of the country. They remove large numbers of men from productive employment through lack of orders; they embitter relations between employer and employed; they discourage efforts to escape trying conditions and to afford employment, and last, but not least, they curtail production and increase the cost of the necessities of life.

"This country is second to none in its opportunities to recover speedily from the effects of the war and to attain a prosperity even more marked than that of the past; but Canada can not expect wholly to escape trying experiences which must certainly result from the waste of the last five years with its inevitable inflation and its widespread disturbance of industrial conditions. Constant recurrence of lockouts or strikes will make it exceedingly difficult if not impossible to pass successfully through the perilous period.

Conciliation Needed.

"The need of our country makes insistent appeal to the Canadian people in the new and unified era upon which we have now entered. Never was there greater need for steadfast self-control, wise forbearance and a just spirit of conciliation. Upon these qualities will largely depend our success in solving the problems and surmounting the dangers that lie before us."

he has been opposed to the policy of the Liberal party.

Liquor Question.

On the prohibition issue, Mr. Rowell says: "As leader, he undoubtedly will command and secure the support of the organized liquor traffic and friends in Ontario, irrespective of party. They look upon him as the rising hope."

Regarding the attitude of the Liberal-Unionists toward the proposed Liberal Convention in August, Mr. Rowell says: "In reference to the proposed convention in August, you are aware, it was not called by the Liberal members of the House of Commons, but by Mr. McKenzie as the leader of that section of the Liberal party opposed to the Union Government. As you are no doubt aware, of the 132 Liberals elected to the House of Commons, fifty were elected as supporters of the Union Government and eighty-two opposed; of the sixty-six Liberals elected to the House of Commons outside of the Province of Quebec, forty-nine were elected as supporters of the Union Government and twenty-one opposed; and of the fifty-five Liberals elected west of the Ottawa River, forty-two were elected as supporters of the Union Government and ten opposed.

Convention of a Section.

"The Liberals in the House of Commons who supported the Union Government were not and are not parties to the calling of the proposed convention. Therefore, you will see that the convention is not a convention of the Liberal party, but a convention called by the section of the party that was hostile to the war policy of the Union Government, and to the Union Government itself. While no doubt some Liberals who supported the Union Government will attend, the convention will not be in a position to represent or speak for the Liberals who supported the Union Government.

"The Liberal-Unionists must decide for themselves, irrespective of the action of the August convention, the course they should pursue in the light of the same high considerations of national duty which guided them when they joined in forming and supporting the Union Government."

Mr. Rowell concludes with a statement of the reasons which are compelling the Union Government to carry on for the present.

rivals, bearing leaves of bread and victuals. Most of them, bearing the unmistakable stamp of provincials, were sitting along the boulevards, munching sandwiches or stretching blankets upon the sidewalks. Some visitors, apparently awed by the congestion of the thoroughfares in Paris, decided to return to their homes immediately and the St. Lazare station was crowded during the evening with disappointed visitors.

While the crowds on the boulevards were as dense as on Armistice night, the spontaneous enthusiasm of November 11 was missing. Groups were dancing, singing and striving hard, almost painfully, to enjoy themselves, but the majority of the people were merely looking on from mere curiosity. Perhaps the presence everywhere of legions, armless and blinded soldiers proved a deterrent to the enthusiasm of the throngs.

Daring Plan.

It became known yesterday that Sub-Lieut. Jean Navarre, the famous aviator, who was killed last Friday, had a contract with a large moving picture concern to fly under the Arc de Triomphe in a monoplane. The contract was so alluring that it is reported that another aviator has undertaken to fulfill it. Experts assure that the smallest aeroplane has a leeway of only five feet on each side under the arch. The police are taking severe measures to prevent the proposed flight, besides risking the life of the aviator, would place spectators in jeopardy.

AEROPLANE FLIGHT.

Montreal, July 14.—An international flight between the United States and Canada, the sixty-sixth of the week-end, took place during the week-end when four American airmen paid a courtesy visit to the Montreal branch of the Aerial League of Canada, by a flight from the junior camp, Plattsburg, N. Y. There was only one machine, a Curtiss J.M.-4, which was flown one way by two of the visitors and taken back by the other two. They encountered heavy rain, but arrived safely at 8 p. m. after a flight of forty-five miles in a bee-line route in about forty-five minutes.

TWO SUICIDES.

Toronto, July 14.—Two men committed suicide in this city Saturday night—Ross Patillo, a returned soldier, who took carbolic acid, and Alexander Fowler, who cut his throat. Domestic unhappiness is said to have been the cause of the suicides.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these insidious germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions. So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). If used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

WONDERS OF THE UNIVERSE

Doctor Carpenter Presents Unusual Lecture at Chautauque.

In the entire realm of popular education no one thing can be of more importance than to understand the wonders of the universe. And yet we have found that very few people have a correct conception of our own world and its relation to the worlds about.

To present these facts in a scientific yet plain and thoroughly entertaining way is no small accomplishment. Such a man, however, in Dr. A. D. Carpenter, lecturer at Chautauque, eminent scientist and astronomer. With the aid of his Mallick Tellurian machine, a revolving miniature of the universe, he explains "celestial mechanics" in a highly absorbing and interesting manner.

PATHFINDER COULD NOT DODGE CLOUDS

Pilot Clemence Made Sensational Flight to Vancouver on Saturday; First Lecture

Cloud banks are one of the aviator's worst enemies but as the science of aerial navigation progresses the danger from flying in the mists is gradually being lessened. On Saturday last Pilot Jack Clemence, when flying to Vancouver in the aeroplane Pathfinder No. 2, was bothered a great deal by the clouds and succeeded in making the trip by dead reckoning.

After getting clear of the Vancouver Island coast the Pathfinder became enveloped in clouds at a low altitude. The pilot stuck up the nose of his machine and tried to get clear, but at 8,000 feet he found himself in another layer. When over Active Pass he started to descend and at 2,500 feet was still in the clouds. Accordingly Pilot Clemence climbed again until he got between the layers and then steered by compass. After being in the air for forty-five minutes he concluded that he must be over Vancouver, so did a spin for 3,000 feet, and finally emerged from the clouds to find his destination directly beneath the nose of his machine. He planned down to Minoru Park and landed exactly fifty minutes after leaving the Willows aerodrome.

On the return trip the Pathfinder left with Mr. Hayne, a commercial traveller for the Currie Neckwear Co. who is the first of his calling to come to this city by air to show his goods, and after circling the Terminal City the machine swooped over the Vancouver Hotel at 2.05 o'clock and flew direct to the Empress Hotel in Victoria, passing over it at 3 o'clock.

Lecture To-night.

To-night at 8.15 o'clock in the Spratt-Shaw rooms, Pemberton Block, the Aerial League of Canada will inaugurate its series of educational lectures on aeronautics for the benefit of the citizens of this city. Lieut. W. Kirkpatrick Crockett, R. A. F., will deliver an address on "The R-24, the famous dirigible which has just completed the first round trip across the Atlantic."

Lieut. Crockett spent a great deal of time in the dirigible branch of the air service. He was third officer on the R-27 and has been on the R-34. His lecture is bound to be of great interest, dealing as it does with the greatest and most wonderful ship of its kind in the world to-day and the forerunner of a fleet of monsters that will daily cross the Atlantic in the near future.

There will be a drawing for three flights among the members of the Aerial League.

2,000,000 ITALIAN SOLDIERS DEMOBILIZED

Rome, July 14.—More than 2,000,000 soldiers of the Italian army have been demobilized since the signing of the armistice, according to a statement issued by the Government. The remaining effectives in service approximate 2,000,000.

TAKING NO RISKS.

A worthy canon, who had been greatly displeased by an act of disobedience perpetrated by one of his gardeners, sought an interview with the offender, in order to reprimand him.

Knowing that if able to avoid this interview until after his master's wrath had abated he would come off with only a few mild words of censure, the man kept out of his way.

STEWART REVIVES FROM ITS DECLINE

W. Sloan, Assayer, Says Mining There Has Taken New Vitality

The revival of Stewart appears to have come at last. Messages to the outer world recently have whetted the appetite of the seasoned miner, who is always ready to hope for the best. According to W. Sloan, who is at the Dominion Hotel with Mrs. Sloan, having come down for the assayers' examinations, the rejuvenation of the Stewart camp appears to be real. Storekeepers are doing business again on a cash basis, and several houses have already gone up, with others to follow, Mr. Sloan informed The Times.

The Bush mine of course has been the magnet, but the discoveries there have been elsewhere duplicated. Both on the Canadian and American side famous properties which had long been practically idle have taken a new life, particularly those rich in silver ore, Mr. Sloan stated.

Mr. Sloan said he had personally seen very rich ore from the Bush mine, operated by R. K. Neil and associates, of Spokane and Fernie, taken at 475 feet in. He says the veins of the property are much wider than had been expected, and reminded him of Cobalt. He is quite prepared to see larger yields of metal than the generous assay of gold and silver values recently reported at the Tacoma smelter from a shipment of 200 tons from the Bush property.

The Big Missouri, the property now to be examined by Sir Donald Mann, is also encouraging. Mr. Sloan mentioned as well as other well-known but until recently abandoned properties. He says there is no doubt Mr. Caldwell intends to build a railway on the American side to serve the adjacent territory, where rich ore has been struck. A concession for the line has been recently obtained.

Stewart has its newspaper, The Canadian News, one of the signs of a revival.

RECORD TOURIST TRAVEL RECORDED

Hotels Are Now Filled to Overflowing; Conferences Bring Visitors

The volume of summer travel this year is much greater than had been anticipated. Now that the transportation service to the island is becoming normal, the steamers are filled with travellers, particularly Americans. The desire for movement has always been most marked among Americans, but the check given to their free intercourse with the people of this country by the United States mail administration last summer undoubtedly made a material difference.

Now the pent-up energies are distributed in a rush of travel which is unparalleled. The hotels are full, and the same condition is reported throughout the whole Pacific Northwest. The home localities of the visitors indicate every state in the Union, and a limited number of Canadian towns. From overseas, Chinese, Japanese and Hawaiian localities are the best represented. Few European travellers are yet to be noted, except men on official missions, due doubtless to the reconstruction problems over there. Australian travel has had to be relayed through New Zealand, owing to strikes, epidemics and other delays. Thus while New Zealanders are fairly numerous, there are few Australians on tour.

BOYS GETTING READY TO START BIG CAMP

Equipment Went Out To-day to Camp Martindale; Boys Leave Wednesday

Everything is now ready to launch the boys' camp known as Camp Martindale, on the Meadlands Farm, Patricia Bay, North Saanich. The equipment was loaded to-day and taken to the camp site by the B. C. Interurban service. Ten new bell tents, three marquees and a well-fitted kitchen will provide the best equipment that the local Y. M. C. A. has yet had to offer its members. The boys will sleep on mattresses, the tents will have raised board floors, and only six boys will share each tent. The Camp Committee have put the camp fee at $6 a week, which includes the transportation to and from the camp, and at this low figure it is expected the camp will appeal to every parent and every boy in the city. The camp programme will provide everything that goes into a well rounded vacation. In addition to the regular routine of camp life—swimming, boating, eating and athletics—a weekly trip to Shawnigan Lake is being arranged. Trips are also being planned to the Observatory, to Deep Bay, Resthaven and Salt Spring Island.

The Camp Committee has sent out invitations to all boys whose fathers were killed in the war, but if there are any boys who have not received the invitation they are invited to call on Mr. Crompton at the Y. M. C. A. The camp can also accommodate some boys who want to vacation under such ideal surroundings and conditions.

Registration should be made at the Y. M. C. A. at once to participate in the first week's camp Wednesday.
